

No matter where you start, nextstep is your stepping stone

If you don't have many qualifications, nextstep can give you extra help and support. You can learn or train to boost your skills and open up new job opportunities.

We start with a free and friendly one-to-one advice session. We then help you identify what your goals are. You'll have your own personal action plan with the steps you need to get you there. As you progress, we'll keep in touch and give you support and encouragement to help you stay on track.

If you lack skills, haven't worked for some time or have a disability, nextstep could help you overcome your personal barriers so that nothing holds you back from success.

Taking the nextstep

Take control of your future.

Contact your local nextstep service. It could be the first step to the future you want.

Your local nextstep service is:

Warrington Disability Partnership
Centre for Independent Living
Festival Avenue
Orford,
Warrington
WA2 9EP

01925 240064

For advice on learning and work, call freephone

0800 434 6129

or visit our website

www.nextstepnorthwest.org.uk

Funded by

Learning, learning and skills

European Union
European Social Fund

Issue: May 2009

Our future.
It's in our hands.

Improve your skills, your job, your future

Let us show you how

A stepping stone to a better future

Do you need help to decide your next step in learning, skills and work? The right advice is so important.

nextstep is a free careers service for everyone aged 20 and over.

We offer a wide range of careers information and advice to help you improve your skills and your job prospects, whether you are in work or not.

Careers Information and advice that works for you

Do you want to improve your skills, get a qualification or retrain to get back into work? Perhaps you want to make the most of the job you do now. Or you might be unsure of which path to take.

Whatever the challenge, nextstep can help you decide your next step to reach your goal.

We offer careers information and advice in the way that works best for you.

You can phone, email or write, visit our website or meet us face to face at your local nextstep centre.

All our details are on the back of this leaflet.

A real helping hand

Our friendly, experienced nextstep advisers are completely independent. They will work with you and base their advice on what's best for you.

If you need help with reading, writing and maths, your nextstep adviser can help you find courses and support.

If you're seeking work, we can help you find out what skills you need for the job you want and point you towards the right training. We can also help if you just need to update your skills and knowledge.

If you are disabled, we offer information and advice about services and support.

We can also let you know about the financial and childcare support that is available so you can get on with what you want to do.